Kaeyer, Garment & Davidson Architects & Engineers, PC of Mount Kisco is pleased to announce the following staff promotions. Walter P. Hauser, AIA, Daniel J. Jaconetti, AIA, LEED AP, Misty A. Verma, AIA LEED AP, Joseph Reilly, Erik J. Wilson, AIA, and Niall Q. Washburn, AIA have all been named Associates of the firm.

Walter P. Hauser, AIA of Pawling, NY joined KG&D as a project architect in 2004. Prior to that Mr. Hauser was employed as a project designer with Zarecki & Associates of Pawling. Mr. Hauser holds a Masters of Architecture degree from the University of Pennsylvania, and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Psychology and Architecture from Trinity College. He is the project architect for additions and renovations to Somers High School, the Westchester County Department of Emergency Services Training Center, infrastructure improvements to the White Plains City Schools, and the Trinity Pawling School Dining Facility, designed to achieve LEED Silver certification.

Daniel J. Jaconetti, Jr., AIA, LEED AP of Danbury, CT joined KG&D as a junior designer and draftsman in 2003, and re-joined the firm in 2006 as a project architect. In between his time with KG&D he spent two years with Croxton Collaborative Architects of Manhattan. He holds a Masters of Architecture, a Bachelor of Architecture and a Bachelor of Science Degree in Building Science from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Mr. Jaconetti is the project architect of The Media Center at Jacob Burns Film Center, which is expected to earn LEED Gold certification, as well as district-wide renovations in the Mahopac Central School District and building renovations at Westchester Community College.

Misty A. Verma, AIA, LEED AP of Hopewell Junction, NY joined KG&D in 2005 as a project architect. Prior to joining KG&D she worked for Malcolm Pirnie, Inc. of White Plains as an architectural designer. Ms. Verma holds a Masters of Architecture degree from Texas A&M University and a Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies from the University of Wisconsin. She is the project architect for additions and renovations at Mamaroneck Avenue School in White Plains and projects in the Yonkers Public Schools.

Joseph A. Reilly of Pleasantville, NY joined KG&D in 2006 as project architect. Prior to joining KG&D he began his career as an independent building contractor, spent nine years as a project architect with Partners Stoll & Stoll Architects of New Rochelle, and spent ten years as a sole proprietor in residential design and construction administration. Mr. Reilly holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Colgate University and attended the Graduate Program in Architecture at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. At KG&D, he is the project architect and manager of multiple infrastructure projects for the Yonkers Public Schools and reconstruction of Foxwoods Condominium in Pleasantville.

Erik J. Wilson, AIA of Carmel, NY first joined KG&D in 1999 as an intern architect, and re-joined the firm in 2007 as a project architect. In the interim, Mr. Wilson was employed with Ira Grandberg and Associates of Mount Kisco. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Art and Design from Massachusetts Institute of Technology. At KG&D, Mr. Wilson is the project architect for additions and renovations to Pleasantville High School, and projects with the Goshen Central and Dobbs Ferry Union Free School Districts.

Niall Q. Washburn, AIA of Katonah, NY joined KG&D in 2007 as a project architect. Prior to that, Mr. Washburn spent nine years with the firm of Alan Wanzenberg Architect, PC of Manhattan where his projects were featured in Architectural Digest, Elle Décor, and other major design publications. He holds a Masters of Architecture degree from Rice University and a Bachelor of Arts Degree in English Literature from Vassar College. At KG&D, Mr. Washburn is project architect for the Bronxville, Valhalla and Irvington Public Schools.
